If you explore the psychology of the teacher, it turns out that in his mind before each pair also pops up a sufficient number of experiences and emotional shakes. However, its main goal is always the leadership in the audience, the impeccability of their own knowledge and the ability to simply present information to all interested students.

Teachers, in view of their position and status, are markedly experienced if any clever asks such a tricky question that life experience and qualifications are not enough to answer it to him competently and reasonably.

But it is even more terrible to lose credibility in the eyes of your wards, since such a placement of positions entails the impressability of studies and dismissive attitude towards its subject.

We advise you to read: how to earn the trust of the teacher?

That is why the reasons why the teacher is late for a couple, mostly good, respectful and argued.

1. Emergency meeting of the department. This is one of the most common reasons that makes the teacher to stay on the change, and to appear much later than the call.

As a rule, the headman knows about such an unforeseen circumstance, therefore, in theory, should warn the whole group so that students do not disperse, and diligently waited for their teach.

2. Personal circumstances. This reason is most often populated in the morning, and the teacher is late for their first pair. Of course, he competently counts time, but traffic jams on the roads, a long lack of public transport, spoiled by the weather and the accident has not been canceled. In such cases, the late calls in the deanate and warns of its delay, and the group to learn about this event can again from the all-knowing elder.

3. Disease or poor well-being. If the teacher is late for a couple, it is possible that he no longer comes, and the fault of this is unexpectedly overtaking and "squeezed out of the saddle." In this case, the failure to appear is obvious, and all other groups, in whose schedule there is a subject of the patient, will be separated by this information on the first change, and at the speed of light.

In such cases, all the details can be found in Deanate, and not spending 15 minutes for meaningless waiting in the empty corridor of one of the floors of the university.

4. Cunning jokes of students. Sometimes the latency of the teacher on a pair is associated with the evil jokes of students who try to break the exam, responsible independent or laboratory work, a complex lecture, just a couple.

The teacher thinks that deals with adults conscious people, so it is possible that it will believe in the draw; However, when the truth will still be revealed, all the group will suffer, and malicious humorists will come in doubly. So you should not go such a rut!

Probably there are other reasons for delay, but teachers are carefully hidden, because their content is hardly respectful.

What to do students?

If the teacher is late, then you should not rejoice ahead of time, because it may appear at the most inopportune moment. To avoid an awkward position, it is recommended to take an expectant position, and not yet to make noise in the corridor, so as not to interfere with the learning process in neighboring audiences.

In addition, it is possible to send an older to the Deanat as a "Salad Cossack" so that he found out the situation, but at the same time she did not substitute a group nor a false teacher. Make it during the pair will be difficult, but this is at least at least some information that will tell, wait or still run away.

There is an option to call your familiar students who have previously needed a couple from this teacher, well, or at least write SMS. It is possible that the teacher is missing all day, so you can contact the dean with an official question. In such cases, students are simply released from the pair, but they are obliged to appear in full and at the specified time.

To call the teacher in any case is not recommended, because it is not known than it is busy at that moment, and can the call at all? It can only be angry or remind of myself that in some situations not in favor of waiting students. In such cases, an alternative remains unknown and waiting.

It turns out: "It is clear that nothing is clear, and the best words for the student will be the following words. It is necessary to monitor the situation, but to solve problems as they arrive. There is a concrete case - it is worth deciding, and not to represent and do not make non-optical forecasts.
